After unsuccessful attempts at leading book stores in Washington, D.C., to identify the book and author of interest to Legat, London, a pretext call was made on 12/2/66, by SA [redacted] to the Information Office at the Embassy of Ireland. It was not necessary for caller to identify himself.

It was disclosed by the above Information Office that "SPIKE" HENNESSY is a New York correspondent for one of the Dublin, Ireland, newspapers. Although it has been rumored that a book on the IRA was being published, it was not known to the Information Office at the Embassy if such a book has actually been published and if HENNESSY is the author. It was suggested that the Irish Book Shop, 831 Lexington Avenue, New York, be contacted for desired information.

Recent newspaper articles during past six to eight weeks have related to strife existing in Northern Ireland (NI) between Protestants and Catholics bordering on civil war. Reservoirs, post offices and other public buildings in NI have been bombed and/or set afire. British troops have been sent to NI to help safeguard these installations and to restore order.

RE: CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT
NORTHERN IRELAND
106-103288

For the information of recipients, the six counties of Ulster forming NI are part of the United Kingdom. The Irish Republican Army, which has been involved in the current crisis, has been outlawed by the British Parliament. A recent publication described Roman Catholics in NI as an impoverished and politically disenfranchised minority. Recent newspaper accounts indicate the current situation in NI is historical in nature involving both religious and civil rights.

"We are over here looking for money to buy guns to spread the revolution...we're not going to stand idly while genocide might begin in Ireland." A characterization of the Students for a Democratic Society is attached hereto.
STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

A source has advised that the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. From an initial ideological posture of "participatory democracy," the current line of the national leadership reveals an adherence to Marxism-Leninism. Michael Klonsky, National Secretary, in March, 1969, called for the building of a revolutionary Marxist-Leninist movement. The program of SDS has moved from involvement in civil rights struggles to an anti-Vietnam war position and finally to its present advocacy of an anti-imperialist line, linking up the oppressed peoples of Asia, Africa and Latin America with the black liberation movement in the United States. China, Vietnam and Cuba are regarded as countries which are leading the world-wide struggles against United States imperialism. On the other hand, SDS regards the Soviet Union as an imperialist power and does not support the policies of that country.

SDS maintains a National Office in Room 206, 1508 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois. Its official paper "New Left Notes" shows the line of the national leadership and program adopted at meetings of the National Council and National Interim Committee (NIC). Three national officers and a NIC of eleven members are elected each year during a June National Convention.

SDS Regional Offices and university and college chapters elect delegates to National Council meetings wherein program and ideology are debated, but each Region and chapter is autonomous in nature and is free to carry out independent policy and programs reflective of local conditions.

Dominic Behan, Irish poet to speak today

Dominic Behan, poet, revolutionary and former employee of British Broadcasting Corporation, will speak today at 2:30 in Ritter Hall auditorium.

Behan, the brother of the late great Irish poet Brendan Behan, will speak on the Irish struggle for freedom. He will also read some of his poetry.

Behan is a member of the Irish Revolutionary Army. His speech is being sponsored by the English department.
By ALAN NIEDERMAN
Of the News Staff

Dominic Bohan, poet and Irish revolutionary, was to speak yesterday at 2:30 p.m. in Ditter Hall, but as of 3:00 had not appeared. In his place Gerald Regan, a soldier from the Irish Republican Army, addressed some 200 students and asked them for financial support and to boycott all British goods.

Regan spoke of the "atrocities" that the British government has been inflicting against citizens of southern Ireland, and asked for financial aid from American citizens so the Irish Republican Army could afford to buy weapons to fight British who are its country.

"MY PATRIOTS"

The soldier said that he was very disappointed in the attitude of most Irish-Americans toward their homeland and he called the majority of Irish-Americans hypocrites. Regan added, "Although they may show concern for what is going on in Ireland, when it comes down to taking action they shrug the responsibility and prove themselves to be not patriots at all."

"IMPORTED TRAITORS"

Regan called the majority of the citizens of Northern Ireland "traitors who were imported to live there by the British." The Irish Republican Army is pledged to remove all foreign inhabitants from Northern Ireland and unite the country.

The soldier described the fighting force he belongs to as an underground army dedicated to protecting the citizens from the "brutality" inflicted upon them by the police of Ireland. He described the police as "tools" of the British government who indiscriminately attack citizens of the country.
SDS Begins 3-Day Meeting in Temple Hall

Students for a Democratic Society opened a three-day regional conference Friday in Temple University's Basye Hall, with about 200 students meeting before a draped Vietcong flag.

Those attending the session, with pictures of Ho Chi Minh and Lenin on prominent display, were told that the scheduled principal speaker, former SDS national president Carl Oglesby, would not attend because of illness.

Dominic Behan, spokesman for the Irish Republican Army, author, poet and brother of the late playwright Brendan Behan, told the gathering: "We are over here looking for money to buy guns to spread the revolution... we're not going to stand by idly while genocide might begin in Ireland."

He said the IRA, with its 100 armed men in Northern Ireland, "didn't throw petrol bombs until our people were attacked. We stepped in to defend people, but now we are going further."

A second speaker, Philadelphia native Noel Ignatiev, former national SDS officer, said the movement to the left is "approximately at the same stage that Lenin was in 1914...

Russian history tells us that in 1904 to 1908 the Russian revolution made a transition from a movement that was 74 percent students to 53 percent proletariat."

Ignatiev said the main task of the U.S. revolutionary is to study U.S. history and its tradition of militancy.

It has been indicated that
The "New York Post," a daily newspaper published in New York City, on Page 12 of the November 4, 1969 issue, published an item captioned "Irish Republican Leader Here For the Catholics of Ulster," text of which is set forth as follows:

"Cathal Goulding, a leader of the Irish Republican movement, has come here from Dublin in quest of moral and financial support for Northern Ireland's Catholics.

"Goulding said he came at the invitation of the National Assn. for Irish Justice. While in New York, he will participate in the association's first annual conference in city, beginning Friday. The 47-year old house painter was met at Kennedy Airport last night by Brian Neran, national coordinator of the association, and Dominic Behan, freelance writer and brother of the late Brendan Behan, the Irish playwright and poet."

Attached hereto are reproductions of the following news items which appeared in recently published editions of Irish-American newspapers published weekly in New York City, having a bearing on captioned matter:

An item appearing on Page 5 of "The Irish World," dated November 8, 1969 (for the week ending November 8, 1969), reporting that Cathal Goulding and Irish Republican Army representatives from various countries would be present at an International Conference sponsored by the National Association for Irish Justice (NAIJ) to be held in New York City, November 7, 8 and 9, 1969, and that Dominic Behan would be a speaker at the conference.

Saturday night, November 8th,
National Association For Irish Justice To Hold
Three-Day Conference At City Center

The National Association for Irish Justice, an organization which has grown into existence in the past six months, was chiefly known for its work in coordinating the August tour of Bernadette Devlin, MP, and giving her a "international conference" on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, November 30th to December 2nd, at 135 West 55th St., Manhattan. Brian Heron is the national coordinator of the N.A.I.J., and Eamonn McCann is the secretary.

A number of Irish-Americans are participating in the conference, although one official report says Mr. McCann and Mr. Byrnes are invited.

According to an N.A.I.J. statement:

"The people of Northern Ireland have been oppressed for over 200 years and something must be done now to stop it. We cannot wait until 400 more homes are burnt down, in Belfast or elsewhere, nor can we wait until more Irish people must die."

The N.A.I.J. also stresses that everyone is invited, whether Irish or not, whether black or white, if you are interested in issues such as the struggle between the Catholic and Protestant workers in Northern Ireland and the people there in the concept of the international proletarian revolution.

Local and national affiliate delegates are expected to attend the conference and will vote on matters discussed during the conference, including whether to support the N.A.I.J. A vote of the affiliate delegates will be held at 9 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

The entertainment program will be featured on Friday and Saturday evening, with a concert on Saturday evening. On Sunday, December 3rd, at 10 a.m., a rally will be held in New York, according to Mr. McCann, and a press conference will be held.

In a letter to the Irish Echo, Mrs. Patricia McClean, researcher for the Campaign for Social Justice, had this to say:

"I am writing to you to let you know that I have been notified about the first annual conference sponsored by the Association for Irish Justice to be held soon in New York. According to Mr. McCann, it is to be held on the Executive and not successful in the planning of the three-day event, other organizations oppose the political and ideological views of the organizers. Among those not participating are the United Irish League, the Gaelic Athletic Association, the American Irish Action Committee and the American Congress for Irish Freedom."

Byrnes Statement

Eugene J. Byrnes, New Jersey president of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, last week warned Irish-Americans "concerned with the violence in Ulster that they must not come here." He said that the violence in Ulster has been "suffering in silence" or "demonstrating using the conflict there to further their political motives."

Mr. Byrnes stated that the persons he was referring to included those who support the violence and are using it to further their political ends. He said that the persons he was referring to are "demonstrating using the conflict there to further their political motives."

The N.A.I.J. has called an "International Conference" for New York City, to be held on December 3rd, where people from different sections of the world will gather to discuss the problems of Northern Ireland and the concept of the international proletarian revolution."

CIVIL RIGHTS NITE
The American committee in support of Civil Rights for Northern Ireland will hold a gala Irish Halloween night on Friday, October 31 at the Tipple Club, 8th and Tricolor Road. Proceeds to go to the Northern Ireland relief fund. There will be top Irish music and entertainment. Refreshments will be served. We urge our readers to patronize this affair—there is no more worthy cause—at least for the present.

THE ROYAL SCOT
IN PHILLY
The Royal Scot, the famous steam engine train that used to run between London and Edinburgh, steamed into Philly last week, and Dominic Behan steamed in with it. He is part of a group that plan to follow the train all over the United States and organize pickets in every city. Their purpose, as the sign that Brigid Makowski carried said, to "take the steam out of the Flying Scot." I think the 100 Philly pickets did just that: The Scottish piper couldn't be heard over the rebel songs that came from the loudspeaker—perched on top of the bus, and many righteously and railroad buffs hesitated to go through the picket lines. Strawbridge and Clothier's Department store, that was tied in with the British goods promotion, also received picket treatment. The Scot will visit Baltimore and Washington after it leaves here, so will Dominic and the Bus.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

A source has advised that the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Fort Knox, Michigan, in June, 1962. From an initial ideological posture of "participatory democracy," the current line of the national leadership reveals an adherence to Marxist-Leninism. MICHAEL HANNON, National Secretary, in March, 1966, called for the building of a revolutionary Marxist-Leninist movement. The program of SDS has moved from involvement in civil rights struggles to an anti-Vietnam war position and finally to its present advocacy of an anti-imperialist line, linking up the oppressed peoples of Asia, Africa and Latin America with the black liberation movement in the United States. China, Vietnam and Cuba are regarded as countries which are leading the worldwide struggles against United States imperialism. On the other side, SDS regards the Soviet Union as an imperialist power and does not support the policies of that country.\(^{(a)}\)

SDS maintains a National Office in Room 203, 1300 West Washington Street, Chicago, Illinois. Its official paper "New Left Notes" shows the line of the national leadership and program adopted at meetings of the National Council and National Interim Committee (NIC). Three national officers and a NIC of eleven members are elected each year during a June National Convention.\(^{(a)}\)

SDS Regional Offices and university and college chapters elect delegates to National Council meetings wherein program and ideology are debated, but each Region and chapter is autonomous in nature and is free to carry out independent policy and programs reflective of local conditions.\(^{(a)}\)

BLACK PANTHER PARTY

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1965, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics, and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by BOBBY GEORGE SEALE, BPP Chairman, and HUEY P. NEWTON, BPP Minister of Defense. NEWTON is presently serving a sentence of 2 to 15 years on a conviction of manslaughter in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.\footnote{u}

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther", which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service", states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.\footnote{u}

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial by BPP Minister of Education, GEORGE MASON MURRAY, which ends with the following:\footnote{u}

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement, "... we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it."\footnote{u}

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of the People's Republic of China and feature MAO's statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."\footnote{u}

The national headquarters of the BPP is located at 3105 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California. Branches have been established at various locations throughout the United States.\footnote{u}
The "social" and the "subversive" were the driving forces of national politics in the Irish Republican movement. It was a time when the United States newspapers, especially the New York Times, were filled with speculation about the activities of a group led by a man named James Connolly. The papers claimed that Connolly was a leader of a radical movement that was intent on overthrowing the Irish government.

This movement, according to the papers, was a threat to the stability of the nation. The papers accused the leaders of the movement of being anarchists and subversives, and suggested that they were planning to organize a revolution in Ireland. The papers also claimed that the movement was supported by foreign powers, particularly Russia, and that it was a threat to the security of the United States.

As a result of these allegations, the government began to take steps to suppress the movement. The papers reported that the government was investigating the leaders of the movement and that it was considering taking legal action against them. However, the leaders of the movement denied the allegations and said that they were working for the betterment of the Irish people.

As the movement gained momentum, the papers continued to report on its activities. The papers accused the leaders of the movement of being radicals and subversives, and suggested that they were planning to organize a revolution in Ireland. The papers also reported that the movement was supported by foreign powers, particularly Russia, and that it was a threat to the security of the United States.

Despite the efforts of the government to suppress the movement, it continued to gain support and influence. The papers reported that the movement was attracting thousands of followers and that it was becoming a major force in Irish politics.

The convention will be a success; but before the close of the annual ball on Saturday night, Nov. 18th, it will be a success in every respect he was the President at the meeting of the Irish Aid Committee in New York. It seems that my resolution, that of the meeting, included in the last letter, to pray for the peace of the land, is now, in the interest of all, the most pressing issue. The convention of the Irish Aid Committee, in all its beauty and power, to alcohol, is now, in the interest of all, the most pressing issue.

London representatives will arrive here this morning, and will be in the midst of the Civil War movement. The meeting will be held in the Hotel. To date, notable attendants from the convention will be: Senator Devlin, Mr. Hugh Lenehan, Senators Norton, Senator McEnery, Senator Hartley, and Paul Warburton. England will indeed reflect the trend of interest shown by youth, which is the most wholesome sign of encouraging changes for the future of Ireland. The youth of today may not even wait for tomorrow; they are too anxious to save today lest it may still be secure for tomorrow, and so it is with most of the educated youth of Ireland also. "God save Ireland from the heroes" is their most sincere testy cry.

The Annual Fall Dance of the St. Ogleigh is being held on Sat., Nov. 18th, at the Irish Institute, 326 W. 46 St. The entire proceeds of this affair will be donated to a fund to help the two L.R.A. prisoners who were sentenced to 7 years in jail. This is a very worthy cause! I hope to meet all my Irish Republican friends there.
The first annual conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was held at the Hotel Statler on Oct. 26. The convention, which was attended by more than 2,000 delegates from all parts of the United States, was called to discuss the present status of the civil rights movement and to plan future activities. Among the resolutions adopted were a demand for the immediate release of all political prisoners and a call for the overthrow of the Jim Crow system in the South.

The convention also adopted a resolution calling for the appointment of a commission to study the question of lynching in the South. The commission was to be composed of five members, three of whom were to be appointed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and two by the American Bar Association. The commission was to report its findings to the next annual convention of the association.

In a statement issued after the meeting, the president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said that the convention had achieved its objectives and that the organization would continue its fight for civil rights.

The meeting was called by the Jesuits of the New York Province, who are the leaders of the Irish Federation, whose chairman isRev. Francis Flannery and who was also present at the meeting. The executive of the Federation is that of the Jesuits in America, who are also present at the meeting.

The Federation is a body which is charged with the responsibility of ensuring the safety and well-being of the Irish community in the United States. It is composed of the Irish Federation, the Irish American Federation, and the Irish Catholic Federation. The national and international press is filled with reports of the Anglo-Irish War, and the United States is not an exception. In New York, a significant number of Irish newspapers, including the "New York Tribune," document the daily events of the conflict. The press highlights the growing dissatisfaction among the Irish people, especially in the United States, over the situation in Ireland.

The Irish people in the United States are increasingly concerned about the situation in Ireland. The recent news of the execution of the leaders of the Easter Rising has sparked a wave of anti-imperialist sentiment. The Irish Republican Brotherhood (IRB), under the leadership of James Connolly and Eamon de Valera, has called for a nationwide strike in sympathy with the Irish people.

The strike was called to protest against the British government's continued occupation of Ireland. The Irish people are determined to fight for their independence and are supported by a growing international solidarity movement.

According to information released by the conference committee of the National American Labor Union, a significant number of Irish workers have joined the strike in solidarity with their Irish counterparts in Ireland. The strike has spread throughout the United States, with workers in industries such as textiles, mining, and transportation joining in support.

The national and international press are closely following the developments in Ireland and the United States. The situation is rapidly evolving, and the Irish people are calling for international support in their struggle for independence.

EDITORIAL

The Irish Association for Irish Justice will hold its convention this Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 4-6, at the City Center. Chairman, The group has been with the People's Democracy and the Irish Reel Movement in Northern Ireland. These two groups are said to have lasting connections, however, to those who do think of creating a force that could help conditions in Ulster.

The Irish Justice group in the U.S. would do well to keep their organization a strictly Irish or Irish-American one and not to identify or align itself with any other groups here that might have similar ideals. The Irish Movement should be limited in its own way.
DEAR SIR,

It is becoming more and more evident everyday that committee members against the civil rights for blacks in Northern Ireland are beginning to fall in an attempt to suppress the upcoming International Irish Congress, sponsored by the Irish Association, which is planned for November 7th, 8th and 9th in the City Center, 115 West 56th St., N.Y.C. The congressmen have attempted to silence the majority of Irish and Irish-American opinion on the Irish question, by an attack both in print and in the realm of secret meetings.

One columnist made a grave error by forgetting Irish history and affected our personal level, the bending of a dandy issue concerning money collected by Eamon De Valera was finally put to rest by Verrone when he stated on October 27th that all money collected by him with the help of the National Association for Irish Justice had been returned by them, in fact the change was really answered more than one month ago when a financial statement was issued by the 210 East 23rd St. office of the N.A.I.J. showing money items collected and pledged and noting areas where difficulties had arisen in the transfer of money to Britain.

We then have the co-conspirators led by Michael Flannery, the one-third of the "American Irish Action Committee" who chose to disassociate from the N.A.I.J., an action contrary to the announcement was taken by the entire Action Committee. They are now holding to stop behind the recognized strength of the N.A.I.J., the only representative of the Civil Rights Association in Northern Ireland.

I openly question the knowledge and sincerity of the conspirators and would be very interested to know if their respective members had been elected or even convicted before the action to withdraw was taken.

Charlene Mitchell was identified in "The Worker" issue of July 14, 1968, as the candidate of the CPUSA for President of the United States, and as Field Secretary of the Party Commission on Black Liberation.

"The Worker" was an East Coast Communist newspaper.

Attached hereto are reproductions of three items relating to the captioned Conference, which appeared in the November 15, 1969, issue of the "Irish Echo", a weekly newspaper published in New York City, which appears on the newsstands generally on the Wednesday prior to the actual date appearing on each issue.

It is to be noted that in the attached article captioned, "N.A.I.J. Holds First Conference", Miss Eilish McGarvey, a representative of the left-wing People's Democracy, a law student at Queens University in Belfast, who was present at the Conference, said, in part:

"People's Democracy, as you will know,...believes its objectives can only be obtained by ousting both Tory Governments and the setting up of an Irish Workers Republic..."

The article also mentions that Kevin Boyle, 26 year-old representative of People's Democracy, a lecturer in law at

The same article quotes from a statement made by Cathal Goulding, Chief of Staff of the Irish Republican Army, at the Conference.

It is to be noted that this same article reports the names of persons elected to the National Committee of the NAIJ, and that the list includes the names, Mike Glick and Lenny Glazer.

As mentioned in further detail in the communication from this office dated
November 8, 1969, mentioned above.

A characterization of the SDS appears in the Appendix attached to this memorandum.

Attention is called to the comments reportedly made by Dr. Frank Gogarty, leader of the Northern Ireland Civil Rights Association (NICRA) in his speech at the Convention, as reflected on page 12 of the "Irish Echo" dated November 16, 1969, in which he gave praise to "people like Pat Garland, Lenny Glazer, and Brian Heron who, out of nothing, have created this dynamic organization". Gogarty also stated, "Here I would like to endorse what Brian Heron said that the National Association is the only organization mandated by our executive to speak on behalf of the NICRA and, as such, its main function for us is to mobilize and coordinate the activity of all other sympathetic organizations."
International Conference Sponsored by the National Association for Irish Justice (NAIJ), New York, New York November 7, 8 and 9, 1968

Gogarty is quoted as saying, "...but at the risk of losing your much valued support, rather than risk the splitting and destruction of our movement, we are prepared to forego all further aid from all or any American groups, so as to preserve our unity and integrity."

Gogarty reportedly concluded his remarks with the statement, "If any society is not prepared to continue its support in the understanding we shall work out through this conference, then I say, just leave us alone and allow us to get on unhindered with the task in our own way."

Patrick Garland, mentioned above, is possibly identical with an individual of that name whose name appears regularly in advertisements published in the "Irish American News Review," another weekly newspaper published in New York, as the person to whom requests should be sent for subscriptions to "The United Irishman," which is the official publication of the Irish Republican Army. His address furnished in such advertisements is 2805 Heath Avenue, Bronx, New York. The "Irish Echo," issue of February 8, 1969, reported that one Patrick Garland was elected as Joint Treasurer of the United Irish Publicity Committee.
STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

A source has advised that the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. From an initial ideological posture of "participatory democracy," the current line of the national leadership reveals an adherence to Marxism-Leninism. MICHAEL KLONSKI, National Secretary, in March, 1969, called for the building of a revolutionary Marxist-Leninist movement. The program of SDS has moved from involvement in civil rights struggles to an anti-Vietnam war position and finally to its present advocacy of an anti-imperialist line, linking up the oppressed peoples of Asia, Africa and Latin America with the Black liberation movement in the United States. China, Vietnam and Cuba are regarded as countries which are leading the worldwide struggles against United States imperialism. On the other hand, SDS regards the Soviet Union as an imperialist power and does not support the policies of that country.

SDS maintains a National Office in Room 203, 1633
West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois. Its official paper "New Left Notes" shows the line of the national leadership and program adopted at meetings of the National Council and National Interim Committee (NIC). Three national officers and a NIC of eleven members are elected each year during a June National Convention.

SDS Regional Offices and university and college chapters elect delegates to National Council meetings wherein program and ideology are debated, but each Region and chapter is autonomous in nature and is free to carry out independent policy and programs reflective of local conditions.
N.A.I.J. Holds First Conference

By John Thornton

The National Association for Irish Justice held its first conference last weekend in the City Center Ballroom. It was neither as controversial as some of its detractors had expected nor as unimportant as some of its advocates had hoped.

The announcement of the conference was long expected and was the result of a series of meetings held by members of the association. The conference was called to discuss the problems facing the association and to formulate a plan of action for the future.

The first day of the conference was devoted to the discussion of the association's objectives and its role in the struggle for Irish justice. The association's objective is to fight for the rights of all Irish people, regardless of their political affiliation.

The second day of the conference was devoted to the discussion of the association's structure and its relationship with other organizations. The association is committed to working closely with other organizations to achieve its goals.

The conference was attended by over 100 members of the association, including many prominent figures in the Irish justice movement. The speakers included Dr. Frank Gearty, a leading civil rights activist, and Mr. Joe Murphy, the chairman of the association.

Dr. Gearty spoke of the importance of unity in the struggle for Irish justice and the need for all organizations to work together towards a common goal. He also emphasized the need for the association to be proactive in its efforts to achieve its objectives.

Mr. Murphy discussed the association's role in the current political climate and the need for the association to be vigilant in its efforts to protect the rights of Irish people.

The conference was a successful event that brought together many of the leading figures in the Irish justice movement. It demonstrated the association's commitment to fighting for Irish justice and its willingness to work with other organizations to achieve its goals.

Another View

Mr. Joe Murphy, a prominent civil rights activist, congratulated the National Association for Irish Justice on its first conference and praised its commitment to Irish justice.

"The N.A.I.J. is a welcome addition to the Irish justice movement," he said. "Its commitment to fighting for Irish justice is a welcome addition to the struggle for Irish rights. I congratulate the association on its first conference and look forward to its continued success in the struggle for Irish justice."
Other speakers during the conference included former New York City Councilman Paul O'Spats, Deputy Mayor Timothy Consolo, who opened the conference, and Dominick Doherty, executive director of Irish Women's Week.

The visiting speakers aside, the main work of the conference was narrowing broad agreement over various resolutions. On Saturday several controversial resolutions were put forward. One, for instance, called for condemnation of U.S. policy in Vietnam. Many amendments were put forward by the U.S. delegates from 21 organizations participating. There seemed to be, at least generally, a left-right confrontation with delegations from left-leaning groups supporting proposals for N.A.I.L. involvement in U.S. and international affairs, while delegations from right-leaning organizations in Brooklyn and Queens supporting an "Irish issue" only policy.

After conferences on Saturday, Sunday, and Sunday morning the following statement was issued by the Steering Committee containing the final amendments:

"It is evident that a discussion of the national resolution and amendments related to the position of the N.A.I.L. on problems not directly affecting the Irish people would be time consuming and divisive. Therefore the Steering Committee has drawn up a general statement of policy." (Continued on Page 12)

The statement reads:

"The purpose of the N.A.I.L. is to obtain broad public support for the United States and the demand of the Northern Ireland Civil Rights Association and self determination for the people of Ireland. The N.A.I.L. is an association of diverse groups united in its support of the Irish people. Consequently, the N.A.I.L. should not take specific positions on issues not directly related to the Irish situation. However, this in no way limits the preventive of local affiliation groups or affiliates to take specific stands.

The National Association for Irish Rights has approached the struggle to achieve equal rights for all peoples. It also supports the right of every man to a standard of living which allows him to live with dignity. Finally, the N.A.I.L. supports the right of every nation to self-determination, and reiterates its opposition to any form of economic, political, or military imperialism.

Other resolutions called for the release of political prisoners in Northern Ireland; supported armed self-defense when necessary; urged the boycott of British goods; supported the teaching of Irish history in American colleges and high schools; urged action at the U.S. on the Irish question, and called for the U.S. Government to discontinue financial aid to Britain.

In a matter related to the conference, it was learned that several of the visitors from across the Atlantic were with spokesmen of some of the major Irish organizations that participated in the conference. After a vigorous discussion of the issues surrounding the "Irish issue" here no progress was made in reconciling the various groups.

Elected officers of the N.A.I.L. were: Brian O'Brien, national coordinator; Cathy Curtin, executive secretary; Terry Cafran, national student organizer; Pat Garland, treasurer.

Elected as members-at-large to serve on the executive committee were: Jerry O'Keefe, Jerry O'Neill, Joan McMahon, Bob St. Cyn, and Tom Smythe.

Elected to the national committee of the N.A.I.L. were: Ted Doherty, Cathy Hardness, Paul Shuttleworth, Bernard McDonald, Tom Smythe, Ray Martin, Brian O'Brien, Bob St. Cyn, Bill Flood, Pat McMichael, Mike Frawley, bice Bros, Sean O'Hannigan, John McErlain, Terry Collins, Jim Skidmore, Dennis McMahon, Terry Matson and Jerry O'Neill.

Also: Walter O'Farrell, Owen Farrell, Donal Harkey, Mike Fitzgerald, Mike O'Ferrall, Larry Frawley, James McCarthy, Tom Lee, Jerry O'Keefe, Liam Kelly, Bill O'Brien, Seamus Naughton, Pat McMichael, Tom Naughton, Sean Naughton, and John Quinn.

Speech by Dr. Frank Geoghegan

"This is a historic occasion. Never since the great days of Sinn Féin have so many Irish-Americans come together in one place for the single cause of justice for Northern Ireland. Today, the National Association and its Irish branches are united in the struggle for the rights of the people of Northern Ireland, which they believe is the birthright of every Britisher.

On behalf of the Executive of the Civil Rights Association, I would like to express our appreciation and gratitude for their tireless devotion to our cause.

"Of all the Irish solidarity demonstrations, the one in Chicago was the largest and the long hours devoted to their mission. The National Association which they represent is a credit to them and to all Irish-Americans everywhere. It is to be hoped that the Civil Rights struggle will continue to be successful.

Over the past year the people of Northern Ireland have suffered unspeakable wrongs and injustices. The struggle of the people of Northern Ireland must be continued until justice is done.

"Other speakers from Northern Ireland will briefly outline the progress of our movement and the changes that have taken place. I will discuss the question of the future of Northern Ireland. It is my desire that there should be an end to the struggle and that the people of Northern Ireland should be free and equal.

"I am sure that you will agree that the future of Northern Ireland is in the hands of the people of Northern Ireland. We must work together to achieve freedom and justice for all.

"In conclusion, I would like to express my appreciation for the support and assistance we have received. I hope that we will continue to work together to achieve our goals.
“We in the civil rights movement have in the past been torn by internal conflicts and undying suspicions. We have been divided on the base of some things. The danger, as I see it now, is that much of the internal conflict which threatened to shatter our movement for the past year has become transplanted into the American scene. This danger is very real and must be realized.

That is why, I believe, it is so important for all of us here today to speak clearly and sincerely on this conference. There are occasions for voicing differences, but this is neither the time nor place. Here today we must unite under the banner of justice—the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The N.A.A.C.P. is your organization, and what you make of it depends entirely on you and what you think. I would like to endorse what Brian O’Duffy said.

The National Association is the only organization-managed by our executive to speak on behalf of the N.A.A.C.P. The main function of our is to mobilize and coordinate the activities of all other sympathetic associations. It is not a substitute for the activities of Irish American societies in general. But when considered as a measure of your strength and potential.

Since our arrival here we have been aware of the divisions which characterized the time and energies of Irish American groups. What we mean is that we Irish, who believe in the rule of law, believe passionately as we do in the cause of justice. Because when we were dragged down into the gutter. In our wis-

Speech Of Mrs. Noire Martin

"Ladies, gentlemen, friends of the civil rights movement. It is with great pride and privilege to be here addressing this National Conference of the U.S. I bring greetings from the London Region of the C.R.A.

It is indeed comforting to us that the people of the six counties of Northern Ireland feel the compassion and understanding expressed to us by our colleagues who have helped to make this nation great and to feel that they are now showing solidarity with us in this final chapter of our unhappy history.

The London Region of the C.R.A. is now being led by our new leader this year when a group of people of diverse political thought come together to model a middle way of the movement in Northern Ireland and to try to achieve the one unity of thought and purpose and to protect the image of a broadly based movement which would be a reflection of the community living in Northern Ireland.

There was one very necessary requirement for membership that was that each member could totally submerge his or her political identity and work under the guidance of the N.C.R.A. C.R.A. in London and be completely subservient to it. It has been said that the divisions in Irish life are accentuated in Britain. It is so in London and now more deeply accentuated in the U.S. in London, this certainly was an aspect that could have stunned our growth in the past.

Right-wing Republicans, Catholic Nationalists, the C.R.A. and the halt sitting round the same table - impossible and yet today, we can boast of an organisation united among Irish societies in Britain.

We preach no political ideology, right, left or center. Our demands are those of the civil rights movement. Our objects are realized. The aims of the C.R.A. and to give them complete support. We give the people of Northern Ireland an opportunity to voice their condemnation of the happenings in Northern Ireland and to bring pressure to bear on the government at home in our area. We are all the people of Northern Ireland.

And the people of Europe who join the C.R.A. and the civil rights movement do so in that we are in the establishment of a just society in Northern Ireland, a society that is based on the social justice, which is the basis of all the eventual realization of our country. We are aware, however, of the divisiveness of the established elements at work within the civil rights movement. As we as people of the movement have already acknowledged the divisiveness of the left, we recognize the validity of their contribution and instead of fighting and competing we as people in the movement, by having the label of a socialist or a Republican or Tory and we hope that the organization remains united in its aim to help people in Northern Ireland.

"My appeal to you all here today, is to each one of you to take this message back to your respective organizations and to the movement in Northern Ireland and to try to achieve the one unity of thought and purpose and to protect the image of a broadly based movement which would be a reflection of the community living in Northern Ireland."

"The Advocate", a weekly newspaper published at New York, New York, in its issue of November 15, 1969, published a column by Joe O'Connor, a reproduction of which is attached hereeto.

According to O'Connor, the total attendance for the three day session of the NAIJ-sponsored "international conference" was as follows:

Friday (November 7, 1969) 588
Saturday (November 8, 1969) 1,103
Sunday (November 9, 1969) 378

In his column, O'Connor lists by name a number of groups affiliated in Ireland with the N.I.C.R.A. (Northern Ireland Civil Rights Association), naming members of the General Committee, the list including a member of the Communist Party (CP) among others representing divergent groups. Mr. O'Connor states that divergent groups, in joint solidarity, "compromised their geometric differences toward one aim, a civil rights program. In this they have solicited our cooperation. The minority refuses to do this except on their dictated terms. They have been totally rejected by the C.R.A. according to the members of the Executive Committee attending the conference."

Mr. O'Connor's article includes a list of affiliated American groups, that endorsed the C.R.A. resolution read by Mr. (Frank) Cogarty.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Fort Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam, and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. GUS HALL, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United Press International in San Francisco, California, on May 11, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left" which the Party has "going for us". At the June, 1965, SDS National Convention, an anticommunist proviso was removed from the SDS constitution. In the October 7, 1966, issue of "New Left Notes", the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of July 24, 1968, was located in Room 203, 1605 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Reformated Statehood, as a favorably suggested idea of Jack Lynch, has made a big hit with William Craig, the recently deposed hatchet-man of the Majesty's last order to be in the ascendency. This is not an idea for a doubtful plan, but it will bring both sides of Ireland together, as a double checked egg in the Westminster bagnio, with a mass movement on both sides that might be a big down and take the matter over.

In such a plan, there is just one barrier, an imposing one, over which Jack Lynch, Mr. Charles J. Griffin, and all other successful Irishmen are supposed to cross. That great barrier is the wide chasm of what one might call the spirit of the people. The vast majority of our people, and those outside of Ireland, would despise the idea of civil war in the name of an act of the present date, not to mention the provocation of a second Act of Union with our Germanic imperialists. Goodbye to the idea, Mr. Craig and so you, also, Mr. Lynch.

Mr. Humphrey has just announced his meeting with the Finance experts on the matter of a year-end budget. But further work is up with the Finance Minister, Jack Lynch. At this writing, it is only a matter of time before the House will be called in to discuss the matter. It is a matter that the party is deeply concerned about. They gave them the mandate and apparently they felt they could also afford it.

What prompted Mr. Humphrey to go into a new tax bill with his advisors, was the report of a confidential talk between Mr. Lynch and the Finance Minister, Jack Lynch. This, as the House has been told, is a matter of high concern to the party. The House has been told that this tax bill had been a result of careful consideration by the Finance Minister and Mr. Lynch. This tax bill, it is said, will be a big step towards the goal of a balanced budget. The House has been told that this tax bill is a result of careful consideration by the Finance Minister and Mr. Lynch. This tax bill, it is said, will be a big step towards the goal of a balanced budget.
Kevin Boyle, a law practice solicitor and a Peoples Democracy Executive Committee man, gave an outline on the structural骨架 of the Civil Rights Association of Northern Ireland and its present potential in setting up a new, additional system of defense for self-defensive emergency measures only. He elaborated on the constant policy of non-violence and non-political involvements, but recent developments are forcing upon N.I.C.R.A. certain changes to protect its own existence.

Frank Gogarty had the final word on this phase of development and went so far as to state that they were prepared to cut off all associations with the lurking elements in America that have threatened to co-opt their ranks on Irish soil.

N.I.C.R.A. covers the entire spectrum of all affiliated groups in Northern Ireland and is made up of the following groups: Executive members are in accordance with the number and size of each group. This is the general committee of all the groups in the Civil Rights Assn. of Ireland. Frank Gogarty, chairman (non-affiliated); John Egan, U.S. Labor, Vice-Chairman Am. Hope; Socialists Labor, Treas., Rebecca McGee, Republican; Edwin Stewart, Com. for Party; Frank Republicans; Peter Morris, Sec., Rep.; Kevin Boyle, Peoples’ Democracy; Erskine Holmes, N.Y. Labor; Party; Kevin Anderson, Rep.; Lillian McCall, Dublin; James Quinn, Republican; Dalton Kelly, Rep.; O’Connor, Flannick Fall Club; Edward Rogers, Flannick Fall Club; John Donovan, Flannick Fall Club; Con McCready (no political affiliation); Thomas O’Connor, (formerly Sinn Fein); and John Skerritt, associated with Jerry Fink, party Executive, Michael Farrell, Peoples’ Delegation.

The following affiliated American groups endorsed the C.R.A. resolution as read by Mr. Gogarty following a three-hour conference with representatives from one of the rejected groups concerned: Pro-Republican American Action Assn.; Kingsbridge Irish-American Action Assn.; Fenians of Ireland’s Freedom; Boston-Northern Rep.; Society, Inc.; H.A.A., Wash. D.C.; Portland, IAAN; Napper Tandy Club, N.Y.;

Total attendance for the 3-day session was as follows: Friday 58; Saturday 1,195; and Sunday 375.

Characterizations of the IRA and the I.R.A. are attached hereto.

The "Irish Echo," a weekly newspaper published in NYC, in its issue of November 22, 1969, on page 10, published an article by Sean Maxwell, Author of the column "Forever Green," giving an account of the proceedings at the recent HALI-sponsored conference in NYC, which he had attended as a member of the press. A reproduction of the article is attached hereto.

Columnist Maxwell had this to say in the column, in part:

CONFIDENTIAL
Charles Cathal Goulding

"Mr. Cathal Goulding, Chief of Staff of the E.I., directed most of his remarks to the progress of the E. I. C. R. A. and of the support to which they were entitled to carry on their fight. Mr. Goulding's speech was mild, moderate, and carried with it no inflammatory remarks. It was not one in the nature of an oratorical outburst nor of National Republicanism in the light of those we have heard in the past. It too, was a new approach by the Republican movement abounding with the social ideals of the E. I. C. R. A., and in accord with the methods used by the E. I. C. R. A. While he did not leave the national question in the background, he dealt more so with social regeneraion."

"The Advocate," another weekly newspaper published in N.Y.C., on page 15 of the November 15, 1969 issue, published a column "As I Was Saying," by Joe O'Connor, a reproduction of which is attached hereto. The latter part of the last paragraph, second column of the first page of the attachment, carries O'Connor's report on what Goulding had to say in his address before the recent WAIJ-sponsored conference.

1. BLACK PANTHER PARTY
Also Known As
Black Panther Party for Self-Defense

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by BOBBY SEALE, BPP Chairman, and HUEY P. NEWTON, BPP Minister of Defense. NEWTON was sentenced in 1968 to serve 2 to 15 years after being convicted of manslaughter in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther", which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service", states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial by BPP Minister of Education, GEORGE MASON MURRAY, which ends with the following:

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement, "...we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it."

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of the People's Republic of China and feature MAO's statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

A source has advised that the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. From an initial ideological posture of "participatory democracy," the current line of the national leadership reveals an adherence to Marxism-Leninism. Michael Klonsky, National Secretary, in March, 1969, called for the building of a revolutionary Marxist-Leninist movement. The program of SDS has moved from involvement in civil rights struggles to an anti-Vietnam war position and finally to its present advocacy of an anti-imperialist line, linking up the oppressed peoples of Asia, Africa and Latin America with the black liberation movement in the United States. China, Vietnam and Cuba are regarded as countries which are leading the worldwide struggles against United States imperialism. On the other hand, SDS regards the Soviet Union as an imperialist power and does not support the policies of that country.

SDS maintains a National Office in Room 205, 1806 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois. Its official paper "New Left Notes" shows the line of the national leadership and program adopted at meetings of the National Council and National Interim Committee (NIC). Three national officers and a NIC of eleven members are elected each year during a June National Convention.

SDS Regional Offices and university and college chapters elect delegates to National Council meetings wherein program and ideology are debated, but each Region and chapter is autonomous in nature and is free to carry out independent policy and programs reflective of local conditions.

ANALYZING THE SITUATION

For countless years we have been listening to the causes of Ireland and the cause of national freedom. Patriotism and nationalism have always been the keynote of national sentiments whether at conventions, meetings, banquets, commemorative ceremonies or even at house parties. We have listened to diverse groups—conservative, democratic, moderate and liberal—with the same theme, the same cause, the same patriotic ideal, all speaking on behalf of the Motherland but speaking and working apart. Disunity, division and ideologies and claims to Irish Republicanism have kept these groups and organizations apart.

Moreover, Irish Nationalism and Republicanism have been used and abused by individuals and groups as a stepping stone to prominence and popularity. Only a small minority of the Irish people have dedicated themselves to Irish Republicanism over the last few decades, while the majority wish to be symbolically associated with this great national movement. It is strange but true.

What happened to the Irish people and the ideal over the years is the most pathetic chapter in Irish history. Oh yes, we can, and may, and do blame England for everything. Each and every one of us may shout in our more enthusiastic and emotional moments, "Up the Republic!" and feel we have achieved much, but ours, not England's, was the responsibility for our abandonment of the Irish Republic.

Disunity did not remain in, or exist in, the old land alone, it followed our exiled children and they carried it with them to distant lands and there over the years it has remained with us. We have not as yet established the Republic, but all of us, whether at home or abroad, think we alone are its inheritors and to our individual groupings it alone belongs. The fact is it belongs to none of us individually, to none of our parties or organizations. It belongs to all of us.
THE NEW APPROACH

One of the difficulties of our leaders to the ultimate goal, there is the situation in Northern Ireland. The situation of Ireland has been a perilous state. A section of our people have been forgetful of the ultimate goal and their efforts have been directed towards the military action against and persecuted, and no challenge of complaint was made to the Northern Government or the Westminster Government by the people of the Free State. What they were seeking the armed forces to other lands, they remained indifferent to the terrible situation in their own backyard.

There were specific efforts made by the I.R.A. through the years to bring about the ultimate goal, but their efforts were impeded by the cooperation of the powers that be in North and South. Perhaps force was not remedy, perhaps it is not the remedy to bring about the ultimate goal, but the failure of political means in the Northern Government, the institution of a civil rights movement, the actions of the Specials, and the organization of the Unionists, the Provisional IRA, the Black and Tans, the RUC, the British Army of Occupation, the social class interests of the Free State, the influence of the British and the United States, the situation was not improved, and despite the reports advocating civil rights, the demands have not been fulfilled. Nothing has been done.

The Civil Rights Association has had no doubt found favor with Ireland's children and those of Irish heritage in England, the U.S.A., Canada, and other lands where children of the Gael are found. The Civil Rights Association has also found favor amongst other nationalities and groups, but its mainstay is naturally her civil children. It must be acknowledged, it has found sympathy with the Irish in South and received much sympathy with its demands. It is to be successful, it must receive more than charity and sympathy from Southern Ireland.
In a final analysis, we might suggest to our readers that there is a great and dire need for unity among all the Irish organizations in this country. We feel it is not for us to dictate policy or advise the general course of various opinions. We feel that what we can do and can advise ourselves in doing is to bring the N.C.R.A. and the Republican Movement together in their struggle. Financially we can help, and that is the extent of our endeavors. There is a spirit within the civil rights groups in New York City and that spirit has not come about because of finance or otherwise. The discord and division has come about because of ideas, opinions, issues, personalities and leadership. Whatever our opinions may be, it is the N.C.R.A. and the Republican Movement that will or should dictate policy, and their policy will be accepted or rejected by the people of Ireland or those within the troubles area. As the writer has said before, is a man with no compromise, he is a man with a view of extreme right or left, he is a man without a policy on the entire national ideal.

If we are to succeed, if the N.C.R.A. is to go forward through our support, our various organizations must unite together. And what is very important to our supporters and hopeful supporters in this country is that we return to, and create a National image. We must get back into, and appeal to, the mainstream of Irish Life in this country. There lies our support. There are other groups which may come forward with support, but if it is Ireland's children at home and abroad who must furnish this job, it is Ireland's people and will determine what systems of government will be employed in this light. We appeal for—Unity.
New York, Saturday, November 15, 1969

AS I WAS SAYING

Referring to the idea of a second Act of Union with our imperial masters, Mr. Haughey has just announced that he will meet with the Finance Minister on the matter of a new budget. The problem remains unresolved, and it is feared that the only solution may be to impose more taxes. The minister of finance has been under pressure to find new sources of revenue, particularly in the wake of recent economic difficulties.

The National Association for Irish Independence has been active in recent weeks, organizing protests and rallies to demand independence. The group has been gaining support among those who feel that the current government is not doing enough to address the needs of the Irish people.

There was, of course, a grandeur to the more advanced political discourse, with its emphasis on hope and the promise of a better future. Twenty-year-old Allister McManus, a law student from Queens University, gave an hour-long speech on the importance of justice in the fight for social reform. His eloquent delivery was met with enthusiasm from the audience.

In summary, the issues of independence, taxes, and justice are at the forefront of the political landscape. The road ahead will be challenging, but there is hope that progress can be made.
Kevin Brady in his practice as a public defender stated that the Executive Committee has given an estimate on the structural weaknesses of the Civil Rights Association of Northern Ireland. In their present status, they are making up a new, revised version of their charter.

To frame the fulness of the history, the terms of reference of the N.C.R.A. are set out. The members of the association have been informed that the final word on this phase of development will come as far as it seems that they were unable to get to the heart of all associations with the leading elements in this area, due to the absence of basic information.

The following affiliated American groups endorsed the N.C.R.A. resolution, as read by Mr. Brady following a three-hour conference with representatives from one of the rejected groups concerned.

In joint solidarity, they expressed their agreement with the proposed amendments and the revised charters of recent developments that are to be made upon N.C.R.A. before the conference.

International Conference Sponsored by the National Association for Irish Justice (NAIJ), New York, N. Y., November 7, 8 and 9, 1969. Internal Security - Ireland

Reference is made to previous communications from this office under the above caption, dated November 8, 12 and 18, 1969.

Attached hereto are reproductions of the following items clipped from current issues of Irish-American newspapers published at New York City, containing comments regarding the above captioned conference:

(3) Column entitled "Forever Green" by Sean Maxwell, appearing in the "Irish Echo" on page 19 of issue, dated November 22, 1969. DECLASSIFIED 9-31-78. 1-10-78. 2-7197.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency. It and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

ENCLOSURE
Columnist Pat Shields, in his article, mentions that the captioned Convention "was presided over by Brian Heron who is alleged to be a long time organizer for the Students for a Democratic Society." Present at the Conference, according to Shields, were Cathal Goulding, Chief of Staff of the Irish Republican Army (IRA); Frank Gogarty, Chairman of the Northern Ireland Civil Rights Association (NICRA), and Mrs. Martin, a visitor from London (who is a spokesman for civil rights in London).

Mr. Shields commented, in part, that Frank Gogarty had definitely stated at the Conference that his organization endorsed Heron's MAN as a collection agency in the United States, a statement which Mr. Shields regarded as surprising.

Joe O'Connor in his column mentioned above, includes some of the statements reportedly made by Mr. Gogarty at the Conference.

Sean Maxwell, in his column, referred to above, reported that Brian Heron conducted most of the proceedings at captioned Conference. He reported the speakers from Ireland included the following:

Mr. Frank Gogarty
Miss Allish Mac Dermott
Mr. Kevin Boyle, representative of the People's Democracy, described as a grouping within the Civil Rights Association.

Mrs. Maire Martin, representing the Irish Civil Rights Movement of London.
Cathal Goulding, Chief of Staff of IRA.

Mr. Maxwell includes in his column, comments attributed to Cathal Goulding as remarks reportedly made at the Conference.
Also attached is a reproduction of an item clipped from page one of the November 22, 1969 issue of the "Irish Echo," namely, an article entitled "Analysis: Splits Hurt Rights Drive" by John Kelly, which was carried as a "Special to the Irish Echo." Mr. Kelly's column alludes to what he refers to as hysteria over the question indicated to be now in the minds of some people as to "are we going red"? He indicates that such "hysteria" has infiltrated the civil rights movement, both in Ireland and in "the supporting stateside organizations." Kelly's column contains commentary on the controversy regarding the reported appointment of NAJ as the only association to act on behalf of the NICRA in the United States, and on the conflicting statements issued by Frank Gogarty and by Dr. Con McCluskey of the CRA Executive on the matter.

Kelly's article reports that McCluskey said that the NAIJ was banned by the eighteen organization Irish Action Committee in America because it was associated with the Black Panthers and the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS).

Characterizations of the Black Panther Party and the SDS are attached hereto.

The recent convention of the National Assn. for Irish Justice, held in City Center on Nov. 7th, 8th and 9th did not live up to the expected standards. For months prior we were told of the many celebrities from North and South Ireland who would attend. To the great disappointment of everyone concerned, just a few from the Belfast People's Democracy and from Dublin came, Cathal Galvin, Chief of Staff of the Irish Free State Army, Frank O'Connor who at the present time is chairman of the N. Ireland Civil Rights Assn., and another visitor from London, Mrs. Martin, who is a spokesman for Civil Rights in London. This conglomeration of minds came here to tell the Irish and Irish American how they could help Ireland's C.R.A. by giving all aid through the N.A.A.I., while many of the Irish American organizations oppose this newly formed group.

When I reached the Convention on Sunday afternoon I was challenged as to my identity and my purpose for being there. I was told by a young man with extremely long hair, that without a pass I could not enter. However, my good friend Jim O'Brien arrived on the scene, Big Jim as we call him, was known to the Black and Tans at the Convention Hall - a dedicated Irishman. Members of the committee were summoned to the door. Some I knew very well. All this time, I wanted to know why I was refused admission. After a whispered conference I was told that my writings were not favorable to the N.A.A.I. After a while I was given a pass to enter the hall and was directed to a press box where my companions and representatives from other newspapers showed signs of being disappointed at what they saw

The three day convention was presided over by Brian Hazon who is alleged to be a long-time organizer for the Students for a Democratic Society. The question asked most frequently was "Who is this Brian Hazon and his relationship to James Connolly who was executed for his part in the Rising of 1916?" Mr. Hazon is a grandson of James Connolly. In searching through the records we can't find any similarity in the philosophy of the James Connolly who, in 1916, walked to his death with a prayer on his lips and gave his life so that a just cause would live.

Frank O'Connor who attended the Conference as the chairman of the N. Ireland Civil Rights Assn., definitely stated that his organization's endorsement of Hazon's N.A.A.I. as a collection agency in the U.S. was surprising. Said O'Connor: "If any are not prepared to continue his support with the understanding we work out through this convention, then I say leave us alone and allow us to go unhindered with the task." He restated this statement when visited by the heads of the many Irish organizations who went to his hotel and begged him to separate himself from this group.

Demand in your letters that Civil Rights in N. Ireland be returned to the people who can do the best for the people. Don't hesitate to have your voice heard on this most serious question.

Until next week, keep well.
Reading an article, credited to Thomas Hughes, a staff writer on the Tampa Florida press, provokes some interesting comments. An item carries a three-column headline in half-inch size case letters, "ROTARIANS GIVEN REPORT ON TROUBLES IN IRELAND." Seems that this well meaning group was interested enough to seek some facts of history and general conditions concerning recent civil rights uprisings in Belfast and Derry and how the knowledgeable aid of a locally-based Irishman in the field of religion and education at Lakeland, Florida. This is part of a "Cock and Bull" story he gave them in his lecture. Quote - "Father Caveney explained to Rotary Club members that today promises in Ireland are affected by an original political settlement in 1922 when England gave dominion status to an Irish Free State, but one million Catholics did not want this type of settlement but instead, wanted a United Ireland. To this, England agreed, with the separation of Northern Ireland, which had two-thirds Protestants wanting union with England and the other one-third composed mostly of Catholics. He further stated in his lecture that "the Church of Rome is not directly responsible for conditions there nor is it particularly in sympathy with those conditions. It is a battle between two nations, not a traditionally religious difference, but rather more like a historic feud."

The above gentleman, crediting this clipping to THE ADVOCATE office located my comment — here it is. "Next time out, the Rotarians should contact Bob Jones of Bethel College, South Carolina, where Rev. Ian Palmer got his master's degree in Religion and Education at Lakeland, Florida. This is part of a "Cock and Bull" story he gave them in his lecture. Quote - "Father Caveney explained to Rotary Club members that today promises in Ireland are affected by an original political settlement in 1922 when England gave dominion status to an Irish Free State. However, Catholics did not want this type of settlement but instead, wanted a United Ireland. To this, England agreed, with the separation of Northern Ireland, which had two-thirds Protestants wanting union with England and the other one-third composed mostly of Catholics." He further stated in his lecture that "the Church of Rome is not directly responsible for conditions there nor is it particularly in sympathy with those conditions. It is a battle between two nations, not a traditionally religious difference, but rather more like a historic feud."

Many of the most important aspects of the Irish Free State, such as the agitation against Catholic education, the growing of the need of the Irish nation, and the need for the Irish nation to take a clear position on the conference at all, are now covered in a neutral manner and could be given for every such courageous state at this time. Rev. O'Byrne was the only Irishman with a long and reputable record in Irish social work to make an appearance and to concentrate on the new and rising generation in their efforts to get new standards and high standards for Irish education in the future.

Most noteworthy were the close-up views of Dr. Frank Gorman's address in opening the conference on Saturday — "There are, many, I fear, only too many examples to do us enemies no good to speak candidly of one of the great Irish leaders of our time — Bernard de Vries. I am not here to speak on her behalf, but she stands in need of defense. For I am taking her as an example of this peculiar characteristic of self-destruction within us."
I make this point also because the threat of the divisive influences already at work and to remind you that we in N. Ireland have overcome all our past disputes and that the civil rights movement in England has also passed through a similar phase.

On the other hand, here in the United States not only do you have your spies, but you have done something else: you have succeeded in imposing your disputes on the civil rights movement in N. Ireland. When I say this I hasten to add that it has been brought about by a very few.

"We are not going to tolerate for one moment any attempt by any group here in America to divide our movement. Your societies have been generous. You have all individually worked hard on our behalf, and your help has been magnificent, but at the risk of losing your much valued support rather than risk the splitting and destruction of our movement, we are prepared to forego all further aid from all or any American groups so as to preserve our unity and integrity.

"The people of N. Ireland have done enough, and their plight must not be exploited.

"If any society is not prepared to continue its support in the understanding we shall work out through this conference, then I say, just leave us alone and allow us to get on without being interfered with as we are trying to do in our own way."

Frank Cogswell, chairman, N. Ireland Civil Rights Assn. speaking at the opening of the International conference of the NAI, City Center, New York.

The following letter arrived from Sean Fitzpatrick, National Secretary, National Graves Assn., 74 Dame Street, Dublin.

Dear Joe:

I am sorry I did not give you more information in my letter. The Wolfe Tone grave, and the two memorials on it were blown up in the early hours of Oct. 11th. The Ulster Volunteer Force, suitably that the enemy had carried out the explosion on the grave of "Traitor Wolfe Tone."

I was immediately on the job, and on TV, and the newspapers. I accepted responsibility on behalf of National Graves Assn., for the complete reconstruction.

The old family stone was shattered to pieces, while the other stone was uprooted from its foundations, there is now a big gaping hole in the middle of the grave. We have had an opportunity to erect a much worthier memorial; the response to our newspaper appeal has been very good. The first subscription received was from a Presbyterian clergyman in Dublin. We have since received additional subscriptions from other nonconformist clergymen. The general response from the six counties and Ulster has been good.

I just had word that Gote Moore is ill in Spiddel, Co. Galway, and may not be able to attend the meeting in Mullingar next Sunday, of the Barnes McCormick committee. At this meeting the decision was to hand over all funds she had left to National Graves Assn. We can not move with the memorial stone till all funds are returned to our committee. I hope this information on the Wolfe Tone grave desecration will enable you to make a success of your efforts on our behalf of the new memorial through your New York Council of National Graves Assn.

I am pleased to note that you and Eileen are well as are here. Trusting a fruitful meeting of the Association on your arrival here in a couple of weeks time.

Is mise,
Sean Fitzpatrick

The letter, being self explanatory, please note elsewhere in this edition a report on the activities of the National Graves Assn., of New York concerning Wolfe Tone's grave.

SEAN MAXWELL

ANALYZING THE SITUATION

For countless years we have been listening to Irish leaders at home and abroad projecting the cause of Ireland and that of national freedom. Patriotism and national self-interest have always been the keynotes of our action, whether at conventions, meetings, banquets, commemorative ceremonies or even at house parties. We have listened to diverse groups—conservative, democratic, moderate and liberal—with the same theme, the same cause, the same patriotic ideal, all speaking on behalf of the Motherland but speaking of working apart. Disunity, dissension and ideologies and claims to Irish Republicanism have kept those groups and organizations apart.

Moreover, Irish Nationalism and Republicanism have been used and abused by individuals and groups as a stepping stone to prominence and popularity. Only a small minority of the Irish people have dedicated themselves to Irish Republicanism over the last few decades, while the majority wish to be remembered as having been associated with this great national movement. It is strange but true.

What happened to the Irish people and the ideal over the years is the most patriotic chapter in Irish history. On yes, we can, and may, and do blame England for everything. But, and to a large extent, we are to blame ourselves. England's, was the responsibility for our abandonment of the Irish Republic.

Disunity did not remain in the old land alone; it followed our exiled children and they carried it with them to distant lands and there over the years it has remained with us. We have not as yet established the Republic, but all of us, whether at home or abroad, think we alone are its inheritors and to our individual grouping it alone belongs. The fact is, it belongs to none of us individually, to none of our parties or organizations. It belongs to us all.

THE NEW APPROACH.

Because of the intractability of forthright, the position of the IRA, there is the situation in the North of Ireland today. The nationhood of Ireland lies in a perilous state. A section of our people were allowed to be discriminated against and persecuted, and no legal complaint was made to the Northern Government or the Westminster Government by the people of the Irish Nation. While they were demanding "peace forces", we other lands we remained indifferent to the terrible situation in their own backyard.

There were sporadic efforts made by the IRA down through the years to bring about the ultimate objective but their efforts were impeded by the repressive powers that be in North and South. Perhaps no remedy, perhaps it is not the remedy to bring about the ultimate goal, but only time will tell whether it is the final solution. The remedy appeared on the horizon either, no other was put forward or been put forward since the outbreak of war.

And so the Civil Rights Association was born, given birth by the people of the North and South of Ireland. It is a non-violent organization. The IRA made demands through a public demonstration on the Stormont government — social reforms — six in all. They took to the streets to focus attention on the state of the North of Ireland and made clear to the world that they would continue to become equal and demanded that their status be raised to that of the citizens of the United Kingdom as their fellow subjects in Great Britain. This was a new approach and it found a rallying center in the IRA, and has been the most effective step taken over the last 50 years. It was an ideal approach and similar to the tactics in other lands by minority groups. While their demands have not come as yet after more than a year of turmoil and suffering, it has gained its objective in gaining world coverage for their struggle. Within the Civil Rights Association there are many groups coordinating their efforts in endeavoring to achieve the demands that they have put forward.

It must be said that the C.R.A. gained its credibility and support and that the Republican movement in the past has failed to achieve. It is claimed that the IRA is the Republican movement in a different guise. We fail to establish this fact.

THE BIG QUESTION DEBATABLE.

After more than a year of demonstrations, riots, beatings, bombings, the demands of the IRA have not been met.

The Civil Rights Association claimed that over 25 persons killed, countless injured and economic hardships, the Civil Rights Association continued its struggle. After more than a year of political change in the Northern Ireland government, the resignation of Sir James Chichester-Clark, the demands of the IRA have not been met.

In the wake of the Stormont government's collapse, the British Army was called in to quell the unrest. The IRA continued its efforts, staging protests and demonstrations. The Civil Rights Association continued its campaign for equal rights for the people of Ireland. The IRA's demands were not met, and the situation remained tense.

At this convention, like that of other conventions, the shades of opinion were like that of the IRA. Where is the Civil Rights Association? Is the Civil Rights Movement continuing its objectives to the six demands already on the books?

As a member of the press, I attended the three-day convention held in New York sponsored and directed by the National Association for Social Justice and affiliated civil rights organizations. The Coordinating Chairman of the N.A.A., Mr. Brian Herbert, conducted most of the proceedings and speakers from Ireland included Mr. Frank Gogarty, chairman of the C.R.A. in Northern Ireland; Miss Alice MacDermott and Mr. Kevin Boyle, representatives of the People's Democracy; and within the C.R.A.; Mrs. Maire Martin representing the Irish Civil Rights Movement of London and Cathal Goulding, Chief of Staff of I.R.A.

Respective of those who agree or disagree with the N.A.A. in New York, it must be said that their press room and their boycott have been instrumental in keeping the delegates informed of the various matters on the agenda and the whole of events. Copies of all matters to be discussed, resolutions and amendments were available to all so that all three delegates were aware of presently discussed matters and those following them.

A final point to note is that the IRA, the Civil Rights Association and the People's Democracy are all working towards the same goal of equal rights and self-determination for the people of Ireland. The IRA has used violence, the People's Democracy has used tactics of non-violence, and the Civil Rights Association has used a combination of both. The ultimate goal is the same, and the struggle continues. The IRA, the People's Democracy, and the Civil Rights Association are all part of the larger movement towards a united Ireland.
In a final analysis, we might suggest to our readers that there is a great and dire need for a unity of purpose within our Irish organizations in this country. We feel it is not for us to dictate policy or advise the acceptance or rejection of various opinions. We feel that what we can do, and confine ourselves to doing, is supporting the N.C.R.A. and the Republican Movement in their struggle. Financially we can help and that is the extent of our endeavors. There is disunion within the civil rights groups in New York, City and that disunion has not come about because of finance or other. The discord and disunion has come about because of ideas, opinions, isms, personalities and leadership. Whatever our opinions may be, it is the N.C.R.A. and the Republican Movement that will or should dictate policy, and that policy will be accepted or rejected by the people of Ireland or those within the troubles if they wrote, and to this latter, he is not afraid of those with views of conciliation who are extreme left, he is more fearful of compromise on the entire national ideal. If we are to succeed, and if the N.C.R.A. is to go forward through our support, our various organizations must unite together. And what is very important to our supporters and hopeful supporters in this country is that we give a National image. We must get back into, and appeal to, the mainstream of Irish life and Irish-American life in this country. There lies our support. There are other groups which may not have as much support, but it is Ireland's children at home and abroad who must finish this job. It is Ireland's people who will determine what systems of government will be enshrined in this light. We appeal for unity.
Analysis: Splits Hurt Rights Drive

(Special to The Irish Echo)

Some time ago, I wrote about an American lady who was interviewed on Irish radio during a visit to this country. Unfortunately, I could not catch the lady’s name, but I do know what organization she represented, since I only heard a small part of the program. But, apparently, she was worried about the way in which Bernardette Devlin was going to dispose of the cash she collected in the States during her tour. And, apparently, the lady was also disturbed about the carte blanche of organizations working for the Civil Rights Association in the North. She felt that, perhaps, Bernardette Devlin could indeed be another "Cassio" in a mini skirt and that it would therefore be un-American to support her or the cause she stood for.

Democracy, I wrote, had such fear to be nonsense and that any American who had the slightest knowledge of the Irish situation would not have the slightest hesitation in lending a hand. I still do not believe that it is nonsense to think that because an organization has some leftist members, perhaps even some with red leanings, that it’s going to sell this country, hook, line, and sinker to Communist Russia.

Holding such a view, I believe becomes a horrifying innocence of the real political facts in Northern Ireland and, for that matter, in the world at large.

This type of hysteria unmasking of the McCarthy scare in the States but I also pointed out that the worst aspect of this trend of thought was that it played completely into Unionist hands.

In America, the people who played on these particular American chords were Dembo and Mills, sent over especially to discredit Bernardette Devlin and her fundraising attempts. These two Unionist numbers were also sent over by their party to burnish the deservedly tarnished party image.

So it would seem that anybody with any political sense would automatically disregard their statements as propaganda and pay no more attention and get on with the job of doing something for the people in Ireland.

But apparently, this has not happened and this "Are we going to let them get away with it?" has also infiltrated the civil rights movement here in Ireland as well as supporting similar organizations.

This emerged recently in a report by the Irish Press of a conference between Dr. Con McCluskey and a member of the Campaign for Social Justice and of the C.O.I.E., Executive, and Frank Goody, chairman of the Civil Rights Association.

Dr. Con McCluskey said that the National Association of Irish Justice was banned by the Irish government, the organization Irish Action Committee in America because it was associated with the Black Panthers and the "node for Democratic Society.

He added that the National Association claimed on July 12th that it had been expelled by the C.O.I.E., to be the only association to set up its branch in the U.S. and that he had never seen an agenda of the meeting at which this appointment was supposed to be made.

But, said Mr. Goody, the appointment had indeed been made at a regular meeting of the executive and the Secretary, Mr. Peter Morris, had confirmed it.
In this they seem to be misguided. If one is to judge by the press for the past four weeks, there has been no major unrest in the North. This would indicate that both sides had decided that it is time to settle a rest but this has happened. As many things in the past, it would be impossible to give to the future with any great hope - not yet at any rate. And it is because of this that the American split is unfortunate. It is essential to maintain the balance on the United States to ensure that promised reforms will be carried out.

Of course, it must be added that it is unfortunate that Irish-American organizations fight for rights in the North and in Italy play their part in the Unionists' work. Historically, it seems that Irish have had a penchant for splits.

A LULL.

The real unfortunate point about this split is the fact that the paper, as far as I have seen, has written nothing. The Irish Echo, if it is in the support of the C.R.A., has got the real purpose of the American organizations. They seem to feel that there has been a welcome halt in events in the North. But the past has proved that these "hulls" are literally what the term means: temporary halts in the fight for equality.

As recently as last weekend, Mr. Craig attended a meeting of disgruntled E. Specials in Belfast. No reporters were allowed to the meeting in which Craig was held in complete secrecy. Later, reports came out which indicated that the temporary police were fully justified. However, it’s fight to retain their force as it now stands, must, it seemed, did not want to hand in their guns.

And, at the same time, British Navy minesweepers and the British Army, along with the R.U.C. and E Specials were maintaining a tight security around the Border and around the coast to attempt to prevent gun-running into the Six Counties.

So it does seem that the present lull in the North may be slightly ominous. Then, if it must be added, the situation is not what the Loyalists are attempting to give the impression that everything is now being solved in the North and that Civil Rights will be granted to all.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY
Also Known As
Black Panther Party for Self-Defense

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of their life, politics and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by BOBBY SEALE, BPP Chairman, and HUEY P. NEWTON, BPP Minister of Defense. NEWTON was sentenced in 1969 to serve 2 to 15 years after being convicted of murder in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther", which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service", states that the BPP advocated the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial by BPP Minister of Education, GEORGE MASON MURRAY, which ends with the following:

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement, "...we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it."

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of the People's Republic of China and feature MAO's statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."
STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

A source has advised that the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. From an initial ideological posture of "participatory democracy," the current line of the national leadership reveals an adherence to Marxism-Leninism. MICHAEL KLOSKY, National Secretary, in March, 1969, called for the building of a revolutionary Marxist-Leninist movement. The program of SDS has moved from involvement in civil rights struggles to an anti-Vietman war position and finally to its present advocacy of an anti-imperialist line, linking up the oppressed peoples of Asia, Africa, and Latin America with the black liberation movement in the United States. China, Vietnam and Cuba are regarded as countries which are leading the worldwide struggles against United States imperialism. On the other hand, SDS regards the Soviet Union as an imperialist power and does not support the policies of that country.

SDS maintains a National Office in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois. Its official paper "New Left Notes" shows the line of the national leadership and program adopted at meetings of the National Council and National Interim Committee (NIC). Three national officers and a NIC of eleven members are elected each year during a June National Convention.

SDS Regional Offices and university and college chapters elect delegates to National Council meetings wherein program and ideology are debated, but each Region and chapter is autonomous in nature and is free to carry out independent policy and programs reflective of local conditions.

DOMINICK BESNIT and other members of the Irish Republican Army (IRA), alluded to in the first paragraph of the letter, are required to register pursuant to the Foreign Agents Registration Act of 1938, as amended.

The opening paragraph of Mr. YEAGLEY's letter, containing pertinent information concerning reported activities of BEHAN, is set forth verbatim immediately below:

"According to a news story by Leonard Downie, Jr., published on page B14 of the Washington Post of October 27, 1969, Dominick Beahan and other members of the Irish Republican Army have been touring "Eastern U.S. cities, asking anyone who will listen to send money to Northern Ireland Catholics for guns. They have been driving up and down the coast in a wildly decorated microbus." Downie also reports that Dominick Beahan "came to Washington yesterday to raise money for guns for Northern Ireland's Catholic minority" and that he addressed local members and sympathizers of the National Association for Irish Justice gathered at a Cleveland Park home."

Additional information concerning subject's reported participation with a group touring Eastern U.S. cities in a microbus is to be set forth hereafter, under appropriate heading.

II. CURRENT ADDRESS OF SUBJECT

Some of the publicity related to the subject's visit, to be set forth in greater detail hereafter, has indicated that subject was a member of or a spokesman for the IRA.

IV. ACTIVITIES OF SUBJECT

A. Activities

At Philadelphia

The Philadelphia Inquirer, a daily newspaper published in Philadelphia, in its edition for October 25, 1969, contains an article on page six captioned "SDS Begins Three-Day Meeting in Temple Hall." The article reflected that Dominic Behan, spokesman for the Irish Republican Army, author, poet, and brother of the late playwright BRENDAN BEHAN, told the gathering: "we are over here looking for money to buy guns to spread the revolution... we're not going to stand idly while genocide might begin in Ireland." Behan said the IRA with its 300 armed men in Northern Ireland "didn't throw petrol bombs until our people were attacked. We stepped in to defend people, but now we are going further."

A characterization of the Students for a Democratic Society is attached here.
The "Temple News", official newspaper of Temple University, Philadelphia, in its edition of October 22, 1969, published an article captioned "Dominic Behan: Irish poet to speak today". The article stated that Dominic Behan, poet, revolutionary and former employee of British Broadcasting Corporation, would "speak today at 2:30 in Ritter Hall auditorium. The following comments appeared in the article:

"Behan, the brother of the late great Irish poet Brendan Behan, will speak on the Irish struggle for freedom. He will also read some of his poetry."

"Behan is a member of the Irish Revolutionary Army. His speech is being sponsored by the English department."

B. Activities related to Tour of Minibus

The "Daily World" in its issue of Saturday, October 11, 1969, page 10, carried an article entitled "Irish bus to waylay British train in US", a reproduction of which is attached hereto, lettered A.

The "Daily World" is an East Coast Communist newspaper.

The article reported that according to sources close to the IRA, the IRA was conducting a tour in a bus called "Johnston's Motor Car", in which IRA units would follow the British train, the "Flying Scotsman", on the latter's tour of US cities to promote British-made goods. The IRA tour was reportedly being conducted as IRA's contribution to the nationwide boycott of British products being conducted in the US by the NAIJ.

According to the article, the bus reportedly would appear at churches, universities, factory gates, and union halls, "and funds will be raised for the IRA Political Prisoners Defense Committee".

DOMINICK BEHAN, according to the article, would go along with the bus (and train) and would speak on the Irish struggle.
Additional information relating to the tour of the bus referred to as "Johnston's Motor Car", appeared in the following items, reproductions of which are attached hereto, lettered B and C.

C. Attendance at NAIJ Sponsored International Conference

Page 13 of the November 8, 1969, issue of "Irish World", carried an advertisement announcing the First Annual International Conference of the NAIJ to be held November 7, 8 and 9, 1969, at City Center, 135 West 55th Street, New York City. It indicated that DOMINIC BEHAN would be part of the entertainment programs scheduled for Friday and Saturday evenings, November 7 and 8, 1969.
D. BEHAN at Forum at Pace College, October 23, 1969

On November 5, 1969, advised that an organization known as an Ad Hoc Committee for Irish Justice had been formed at Pace College in downtown Manhattan (New York City), at the conclusion of a Pace Press Forum held October 23, 1969.

made available a copy of Pace Press, issue of October 29, 1969, a school publication, the first page of which contains an article captioned "Dominic Behan Speaks on Irish Civil Rights". The article gives an account of talks given to students at Pace by JAMES JAFFEY, a member of the Clan na Gael, and by DOMINIC BEHAN. BEHAN, described in the article as a member of the IRA, reportedly stated that his speaking tour here was being sponsored by the NAIJ.

The article mentions that the Ad Hoc Committee formed at Pace is a part of the NAIJ.

A reproduction of the article, containing additional comments attributed to BEHAN, is attached hereto, lettered D.

E. Subject Speaker at Hamden, Connecticut

"The Advocate", on page six of its November 13, 1969, issue, published a column by JIM O'CONNELL and JERRY O'DONNEE entitled "Connecticut and Westchester County News," a reproduction of which is attached hereto, lettered E.

The article states in part: "Dominic Behan, brother of the late Brendan Behan, was guest speaker at the A.C.K. Hall on October 27th in Hamden" (Connecticut).

Irish bus to waylay British train in U.S.

NEW YORK. October 10 — Reliable sources close to the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA) in New York have revealed that the IRA plans to ambush a British train in the U.S. to focus attention on what an IRA spokesman terms "British imperialism's denial of basic civil rights" to the people of Northern Ireland.

The train, the "Flying Scotsman," is traveling on U.S. tracks across the country to promote British-made goods. Pulling a 10-car train, the "Flying Scotsman" will go from Boston to Houston October 8-November 15.

The IRA in New York insisted that its planned ambush of the train will be non-violent. "The campaign in America is purely educational," it statement reads.

"The IRA is conducting the tour as its contribution to the nationwide boycott of British products being conducted in the U.S. by the National Association for Irish Justice," the New York-based organization which sponsored Bernadette Devlin's recent trip to the U.S.

The IRA sources say that IRA units "will follow the "Flying Scotsman" with a bus called 'Johnston's Motor Car.' The original 'Johnston's Motor Car' became famous during the Irish War of Independence and inspired the song popularized by the Clancy Brothers and Tommy Makem."

"'Johnston's Motor Car' will also appear at churches, universities, historic sites and union halls," the IRA says. "The tour will explain IRA involvement in the struggle in Northern Ireland. Funds will be raised for the IRA Political Prisoners Defense Committee."

Dominic Behan, well-known author and playwright, will go along with the bus (and train) and will speak on the Irish struggle. Behan is the brother of the late Brendan Behan, IRA militant and author of the plays, "The Hostage" and "The Quare Fellow."

Demonstrations against British imperialism are also planned in New York: on Tuesday, October 14, at 1 p.m. at Penn Station (E 42nd Ave. and 33rd St.), and on Thursday, Oct. 16, outside Gimbels (Broadway at 33rd St.). For further information, those interested should contact the National Association for Irish Justice, 230 E. 23rd St., NY 1630, tel. 660-7437, or their friendly local IRA man.
IRISH TO PICKET
BRITISH PROMOTION
TRAIN OCT. 6-NOV.15

The Irish Republican Army will picket the "Flying Scotsman", the train promoting British products on its trip thru Eastern United States. The "Scotsman" will travel from Boston to Houston, Texas October 6th to Nov. 15th, at the head of a 10 car train.

The campaign in America is purely educational and will draw attention to the atrocities of British Imperialism in Northern Ireland. The I.R.A. is conducting the tour as its contribution to the nationwide boycott of British products being conducted in the U.S. by the National Association for Irish Justice.

The I.R.A. will follow the "Flying Scotsman" with a bus called "Johnson's Motor Car". The original "Johnson's Motor Car" became famous during the Irish War of Independence and inspired the song which was popularised by the Clancy Brothers and Tommy Makem.

"Johnson's Motor Car" will also appear at Churches, Universities, factory gates and Union halls. The tour will explain I.R.A. involvement in the struggle in Northern Ireland. Funds will be raised for the I.R.A. Political Prisoners Defense Committee.

Dominic Behan, well known author and playwright, will accompany the bus and will speak on the tour and in lecture halls.

Mr. Behan comes from a family with a deep involvement in Irish history. His uncle Peadar Kearney wrote the Irish National Anthems "The Soldier's Song".

There will also be a demonstration outside Gimbel's (B.S.}
Dominic Behan Speaks On Irish Civil Rights

by Mary Wingate

As the civil rights struggle rages in Northern Ireland, the Pace Press invited Dominic Behan to speak, to give the students some insight as to what is happening, what has happened and what is being planned with regard to the "Irish question."

The Pace Press Forum was held Thursday, October 23 at 4 o'clock in Schaefers Hall. Mr. Behan was delayed in arriving, so Mary Wingate, a Pace English major who acted as moderator, introduced James Gaffney as the first speaker who gave background information. Mr. Gaffney is a member of the Clan na Gael, a U.S. organization supporting the Irish Republican Army. Just back from Ireland, he explained that the U.S. papers were very vague; the situation has been presented as Catholics fighting Protestants as though it were a religious issue. The fight is, in actuality, an economic struggle. The British government has kept the majority of Protestants "just one step in front of the Catholics." But under the present government policy, blatant employment and housing discrimination is being practiced against Catholics. The Protestant minority along with Catholics views the voting requirement. A landlord who has ten tenants has ten votes; the landlord class is made up of Protestants.

Mr. Gaffney went on to describe what he saw while he was in Northern Ireland. A group of militant Protestants trained through a school in the Catholic area in Dublin. Some were armed with machine guns and fired at random into the area. R-specialists, a semi-military army, composed of young members of the Protestant Orange Order, came in the support of the Protestants. Leaders pointed out to the mob that houses and stores should be burned. A group of seventeen houses, with I.R.A. affiliations, held off the attackers for two hours until the police arrived.

Dominic Behan arrived at 4:30. A renowned playwright, poet, folk-singer and song-writer, Mr. Behan, the brother of the late Brendan Behan, is a member of the I.R.A. His opening remark was, "Like Protestants, as such, do not exist. Neither do the devil, Catholics. There is only one God. It is the wish to perpetuate the minority." As a member of the I.R.A., he wished to explain the

When asked about the I.R.A. and Bernadette Devlin, he answered, "We are like St. Paul. We'll take help from anyone. She did raise a lot of money. I only wish that I was as good-looking!"

Concerning the clergy, Mr. Bevan said that their position is the same as it was in 1916. The regular parish priest remains the supporter as he was in 1916. After the Easter Rising many priests were executed because of their association with the Sinn Féin. But the Church is still the same too. The Church, during the years of the troubles exiled priests because of their part in the movement. "Father Dominic, who was called to Alberta, Canada, is my namesake. Please don't think that I'm named after that bloody saint, that woman-hater!"

At the end of the Forum, Bruce Davis announced the formation of an Ad Hoc Committee for Irish Justice at Pace. This committee is a part of the National Association for Irish Justice. Anyone wishing to join should contact either Mary Wingate or Bruce Davis.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY
Also Known As
Black Panther Party for Self-Defense

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by BOLLY SEAL, BPP Chairman, and HUEY P. NEWTON, BPP Minister of Defense. NEWTON was sentenced in 1969 to serve 2 to 15 years after being convicted of manslaughter in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther", which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service", states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial by BPP Minister of Education, GEORGE MASON MURRAY, which ends with the following:

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement, "...we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it."

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of the People’s Republic of China and feature MAO’s statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

A source has advised that the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. From an initial ideological posture of "participatory democracy," the current line of the national leadership reveals an adherence to Marxism-Leninism. MICHAEL KLONSKY, National Secretary, in March, 1969, called for the building of a revolutionary Marxist-Leninist movement. The program of SDS has moved from involvement in civil rights struggles to an anti-Vietnam war position and finally to its present advocacy of an anti-imperialist line, linking up the oppressed peoples of Asia, Africa and Latin America with the black liberation movement in the United States. China, Vietnam and Cuba are regarded as countries which are leading the worldwide struggles against United States imperialism. On the other hand, SDS regards the Soviet Union as an imperialist power and does not support the policies of that country.

SDS maintains a National Office in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois. Its official paper "New Left Notes" shows the line of the national leadership and program adopted at meetings of the National Council and National Interim Committee (NIC). Three national officers and a NIC of eleven members are elected each year during a June National Convention.

SDS Regional Offices and university and college chapters elect delegates to National Council meetings wherein program and ideology are debated, but each Region and chapter is autonomous in nature and is free to carry out independent policy and programs reflective of local conditions.

Irish fighter blasts British 'atrocities'

By ALAN NIEDERMAN
Of the News Staff

Dominic Buhse, poet and Irish revolutionary, was to speak yesterday at 2:30 p.m. in Rotter Hall, but as of 3:40 had not appeared. In his place General Regan, a soldier from the Irish Republic Army, addressed over 200 students and asked them for financial support and to boycott all British goods.

Regan spoke of the "atrocities" that the British government has been inflicting against citizens of Northern Ireland, and asked for financial aid from American citizens so the Irish Republic Army could afford to buy weapons to fight British who are its enemy.

NOT PATRIOTS

The soldier said that he was very disappointed in the attitude of most Irish-Americans toward their homeland and he called the majority of Irish-Americans hypocrites. Regan added, "Although they may show concern for what is going on in Ireland, when it comes down to taking action they shun the responsibility and prove themselves to be not patriots at all."

IMPORTED TRAITORS

Regan called the majority of the citizens of Northern Ireland "traitors who were imported to live there by the British." The Irish Republic Army is pledged to remove all foreign inhabitants from Northern Ireland and unite the country.

The soldier described the fighting force he belongs to as an underground army dedicated to protecting the citizens from the "brutality" inflicted upon them by the police of Ireland. He described the police as "tools" of the British government who indiscriminately attack citizens of the country.

no further communications will be forwarded unless information received warrants such.
On September 22, 1971, Mr. Pat Rice, Security Office, Department of State, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, advised information received by his office shows Princess Alexandra and her husband plan to fly from San Francisco to Los Angeles on October 6, 1971, via PSA Flight Number 710. Rice stated, however, a possibility exists that a private plane might be provided for this flight. The Princess is to be accompanied by Lady Waterhouse and Inspector Keith during the flight to Los Angeles. From Los Angeles the Princess, her husband, and party, are scheduled to fly to Denver on October 8, 1971, aboard Continental Airline Flight Number 10. The plane is to depart Los Angeles at 1:35 PM and arrive in Denver at 4:32 PM. From Denver, the party plans to fly to Sheridan, Wyoming, same day, aboard a private plane, where they are to be guests to Lady Portchester.

Rice further advised that the Princess' trip to Sheridan, Wyoming, was strictly a private matter and to be given no publicity. The British Government is holding details closely, and local consulate unable to provide any additional information.

On September 28, 1971, E. W. Ramsey, Special Agent, Department of State, San Francisco, California, advised that there had been no changes to date in above itinerary regarding the travel of the Princess, et al.

DEMONSTRATION IN SUPPORT OF IRISH REPUBLICAN ARMY (IRA), UNION SQUARE, SAN FRANCISCO, OCTOBER 16, 1971

ReSPtel to Bureau, dated 10/15/71, captioned as above.

In the administrative section of referenced teletype, it was stated that the Bureau would be advised further only if disturbances or violence occurred. This is contrary to the desires of the Bureau. Since it is the responsibility of the FBI to closely follow and report demonstrations of civil disobedience and incidents of civil unrest, it is imperative that the Bureau receive the results of proposed demonstrations, whether or not violence or disturbances occur.

Insure that supervisory and Agent personnel are aware of the necessity for submitting appropriate communications verifying whether a proposed demonstration is held and report pertinent details concerning the event.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HERIN IS UNCLASSIFIED.

NOTE:

Referenced teletype reported.

San Francisco Division reported they would only advise the Bureau the details of the demonstration should there be disturbances or acts of violence. This is an undesirable practice, since the Bureau must be aware of demonstration activities related to political policies, whether these demonstrations are violent or not.

6 MAR 2-1972
LONDON — (AP) — Rioting is good for some people, a British psychiatrist reported after an exhaustive study in Northern Ireland. He concluded that a man who can act out his aggressive feelings, by throwing a brick or a punch, is less likely to keep his frustrations bottled up inside.

Dr. H. A. Lyons, a consultant psychiatrist at Belfast's Purdysburn Hospital, reported in the British Medical Journal that the number of suicides in Belfast fell 50 percent as street riots there intensified a couple of years ago.

For several years Lyons studied figures showing the number of suicides in Belfast and the number of people with depressive illness, a serious mental disorder.

He compared the average for relatively quiet years, 1964-68, with figures for the worst year of riots then available, 1969-70.

As the riots increased, he reported, "there was a significant decrease in depressive illness in Belfast in both sexes and all age groups." On average, the decrease worked out to about 13 percent, but in the worst riot areas depressive illness was down as much as 47 percent.

For purposes of contrast, Lyons also studied figures for the same years in a relatively calm area, County Down. There he found both suicides and depressive illness on the increase in 1969-70.

Lyons concluded that suicide and depressive illness declined in the capital, for both men and women, because "in large areas of Belfast there was relative freedom to be aggressive."

His investigation covered only suicides and depressive illness. Other studies have charted an increase in Belfast in less serious mental conditions, such as acute anxiety and emotional stress, due to the escalating violence.

"The Advocate," a weekly newspaper published in New York City in its edition of November 6, 1971, contains an article, "Philadelphia I.R.A. Club". The article advised that the James Larkin Irish Republican Club was being formed and that FRANK HOUHAN of Philadelphia was the chairman.

The October 4th Organization is named after an important incident in Kensington history—the Rebellion of October 4th, 1779. During the First American Revolution, the merchants and businessmen of Kensington and Philadelphia began to hoard food and clothing in order to inflate the prices. On October 4th hundreds of Kensington people led by THOMAS Paine stormed the homes of these merchants, seized their supplies and distributed the goods free to the people who needed them.

The October 4th Organization believes that working class people of Kensington and other neighborhoods are still oppressed by the big businessmen, rich merchants and politicians who serve them—the criminal ruling class, the behind-the-scenes dictators of America, the people who run the system that keeps us down and out.

MEMORANDUM

TO: RUEHOC/SECRETARY OF STATE
RUEADSS/U.S. SECRET SERVICE (PID)

FROM: ACTING DIRECTOR FBI

SUBJECT: CONFIDENTIAL INTELLIGENCE

DATE: FEBRUARY 14, 1973

This memorandum contains information that is classified as "CONFIDENTIAL" and is exempt from disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act. It contains intelligence information that is crucial to national security and must be protected from unauthorized disclosure.

The information in this memorandum pertains to a demonstration that is scheduled to take place at the British Consulate in Los Angeles, California, on February 17, 1973. The demonstration is expected to involve around 1,000 participants and is anticipated to cause significant disruption to the immediate area.

The demonstration is believed to be a protest against a recent decision by the British government to deport a number of political prisoners from the United States. The protest is expected to attract media attention and could potentially escalate into a larger event if not properly managed.

It is imperative that all personnel involved in security operations at the consulate be aware of the potential threat and take appropriate measures to ensure the safety of personnel and the protection of the facility.

Sincerely,
